TYRANT CNC BASE PLATE FOR SIG SAUER P365 X-MACRO Experience the ultimate convenience with Tyrant's in-stock P365 XMacro Base Plate, designed for effortless installation on all SIG SAUER 17-round magazines. This design allows you to upgrade your firearm with new magazine plates swiftly and efficiently, ensuring you can spend more time in action and less time on setup. The floor plate adds weight which allows for easier and quicker reloads for operators. It also adds surface area that is useful in firearm malfunctions/double feeds, jams, etc. The geometry Tyrant has chosen also helps ergonomically, making it comfortable yet grippy and allowing the operator to successfully strip a magazine quicker than the OEM magazine floor plate. The secure fit and straightforward installation process of the P365 Base Plate make it an ideal choice for both seasoned shooters and novices alike. Compatible with 17-Round Macro Magazine This Sig P365 base plate is engineered to be compatible with 17-round Macro magazines, ensuring a seamless and secure fit that eliminates some of the gaps between the mag and grip without compromising magwell fitment. This precise compatibility enhances your firearm's ergonomics and aesthetics while improving magazine reload performance in part because of the added magazine weight. Upgrade Your OEM Floor Plate Elevate your shooting experience by upgrading your stock floor plate with Tyrant's high-quality P365 XMacro Base Plate. This base pad replacement enhances your firearm's aesthetic appeal, improves its functionality, and extends its durability. Crafted from high-grade 6061 series aluminum, it provides a reliable and long-lasting enhancement that meets the demands of any shooting environment. Flush Fit Design This Sig P365 base plate features a flush-fit design that seamlessly integrates with your P365 XMacro, maintaining its sleek and streamlined profile. This design enhances the visual appeal of your firearm while ensuring a more comfortable and controlled handling experience. The thicker than OEM, Tyrant CNC base pad increases surface and contributes to a more ergonomic and efficient shooting experience, decreasing your cycling times. All while remaining compliant with most P365 magwells! Enhanced Geometry for Improved Grip & Handling The enhanced geometry of this base pad significantly improves grip and handling, offering a more secure and comfortable hold with added magazine weight. One of the Sig P365's main "pain points" is low surface area, ultimately leading to reduced control, but this base plate provides the necessary enhancement for better control and stability. This advanced base pad design feature allows for quicker and more precise magazine changes, making it an essential upgrade for the everyday carry of any serious shooter.
