RISE ARMAMENT RA-101 CURVED SINGLE-STAGE AR TRIGGER Designed for durability. Built for reliability. Priced for everyone. RISE's RA-101 isn't just another AR trigger—it's a true workhorse, made to outperform milspec with smoother operation, stronger performance, and greater precision. Designed for those who demand reliability without the premium price, the RA-101 raises the bar for what a standard trigger should be. Its rugged construction and forceful hammer spring are engineered to deliver strong primer strikes, even with steel-cased ammo. It's built to handle tough conditions, shot after shot. The smooth single-stage design gives you enhanced control. At approximately 4.0 lbs., the RA-101 delivers a predictable pull and crisp break. The reset is strong, fast, and tactile—felt and heard for quicker follow-up shots. Precision-machined from S7 tool steel and finished with black nitride, the RA-101 is built for extreme durability. No compromises. Just smooth, consistent performance.

Installation is simple, with fewer parts than other component triggers. No tricky disconnecter assembly. No tiny springs to lose. Secure it with the included milspec hammer and trigger pins and get to work. The RA-101 is the true standard for reliability, durability, and performance—without the premium price tag. FEATURES Grunt Force Power: — Hits with relentless hammer force. Drives reliable primer ignition. Built to perform shot after shot, even with steel-cased ammo. Smooth Operation — No gravel. Smooth, crisp single-stage 4.0-pound pull (± 0.5 lbs). Lighter than milspec with made-for-duty durability. Simplified Component Installation — Fewer parts than other component triggers. No tricky disconnecter assembly. No complex alignment steps. Rugged Reliability: Engineered to endure the harshest conditions without compromising performance. Forceful, Tactile Reset: A clean, easy-to-feel reset. Professional-Grade Durability: Precision-machined from S7 tool steel then heat treated. Tougher than cast components. Black nitride-finished for maximum strength and corrosion resistance. Broad Compatibility: Fits AR-15 and AR-10 platforms with standard (small-pin) milspec dimensions. Affordable Excellence: Duty-grade trigger at a budget-friendly price. Beyond Milspec: Lighter pull. Smoother operation. Built tough without sacrificing durability.
